

RIGHTS

- Publication in ECONOMIC THOUGHT AND PRACTICE is free of charge for all authors for all regular numbers.
- This journal does not charge article processing charge.
- This journal does not charge article submission charge.
- Since publication in ECONOMIC THOUGHT AND PRACTICE is free of charge for all authors no waiver facilities are provided.
- Archiving policy Sherpa/ROMEO green route.
- All published manuscripts are licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 3.0 Unported License.
- Authors are allowed to archive their submitted article in an open access repository.
- Authors are allowed to archive their accepted article in an open access repository.
- Authors are allowed to archive the final published article, often a pdf file, in an open access repository.
- There are not any other requirements for archiving in an open access repository.
- If the authors are subject to a pre-existing mandate from their institution, funder or government to make their article open access, we grant the author an automatic exemption from any restrictions in our policies which would otherwise prohibit their publication in ECONOMIC THOUGHT AND PRACTICE.
- The single policy applies to authors of all of journal titles.